

alQaws for Sexual & Gender Diversity in Palestinian Society is a group of gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgender, questioning and queer (LGBTQ) Palestinian activists and allies. An open space, alQaws inspires and engages its community to disrupt sexual and gender-based oppression and challenge regulation, whether patriarchal, capitalist or colonial, of our sexualities and bodies. alQaws works collaboratively to transform Palestinian society's perspectives on gender and sexual diversity and to struggle for broader social justice.

OUR MISSION

Striving toward a vision of sustainable social and cultural change, we: provide Palestinian LGBTQ activists and allies with space for creative and dialogue-based activism; create capacity-building and knowledge-sharing opportunities; build coalitions and alliances with social and political movements; and inspire responsible and engaged dialogue on the diversity of sexual and gender identities and practices.

OUR WORK

Individual Support: providing peer counseling and holding support groups, developing a network of 'friendly' therapists, and connecting people to professional services.

Community-Building: holding outreach programs and local leadership groups, and hosting intellectual and cultural events.

Social & Cultural Change: creating multi-media and music projects, conducting educational trainings and networking events with civil society organizations, and holding an academic summer school program on sexual and gender diversity.
